SENIOR CLASS

President ..... Dorothea Lomax
Vice-President ..... Dorothy McMorris
Secretary ..... Howard Barco
Treasurer ..... Mary Barco
Advisers ..... Miss Williams, Mr. Congram

The Senior Class of 1938 began their high school education in the fall of 1934 with an enrollment of eighty-seven members. During four years of toil and stress forty-four members fell by the wayside, but this year two new members, Katheryn Schnorr and Nina Murphy, came to us from other schools.

During our first three years we participated in the usual routine of school activities. The major events were the Junior-Senior banquet and the Junior play.

Our last year was a very busy one. A variety show replaced the carnival on the evening of November 6. A basketball game with Hume was enjoyed during the first part of the evening with a dance closing the festivities.

On December 18, we entertained the Juniors at a Christmas party. The Christmas spirit prevailed during the entire evening. The gifts were spread under a gayly decorated tree and there was a real Santa Claus to distribute them.

The class served two dinners and sponsored a dance for the benefit of the "Acorn." The money realized by the sale of candy at the noon hour and at the games helped, too, in no small measure to finance this volume.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Once a prophet walked through the halls of Oakwood High School. His clairvoyant powers astounded all of us. He gazed wisely about and as he did so, he saw a door open before him. When he entered the room it was evident to him that a Senior Class meeting was in session. He seated himself quietly and a vision of the future came to him.

He found himself on a busy city thoroughfare and approaching him with a merry bouncing gait was John Marlow, concert violinist, on his way to a belated lunch at Leota Cook's Cafe. As the prophet walked on he heard a voice and saw Mary Foley standing on a soap box declaiming the merits of Dale Miller, candidate for governor. In the audience he recognized two familiar figures, Dorothea Lomax, Metropolitan Opera star, and standing near her listening attentively, the mayor G. Francis Graham, prominent Democrat. Edging his way from the crowd he found refuge in a large commercial building. Here he discovered Lucille Mendenhall, private secretary to Wayne Montel, chief executive of the Montel Athletic Equipment Company. In the same building the prophet found Reva Snyder, efficiency expert, and Mary Jane Engelman, director of the Children's Welfare Bureau.

The seer wandered toward the suburbs of the city and came upon an immense hospital, endowed by Freda Mae White, where he learned Blanchie Hume and Wilma Cline were two of Dr. Byron Cole's most efficient nurses and that Aileen Van Zandt presided over the diet kitchen.

As the picture of the city faded, the mind of the prophet turned to distant China. Here he saw a construction crew under the supervision of Howard Barco, an energetic young engineer. In Peking the prophet found Marion Wolfe, ably assisted by Marian Van Allen, reconditioning the Chinese works of art damaged by the war. Here too, he came upon Mildred White, foreign missionary from the United States, as head of the many relief stations in China.

This picture vanished and the prophet was carried away to war torn Spain, where a new government was being organized. Wending his way to the new treasury building, designed by Elmer Grimes, he happened upon Merle Womacks engaged in checking income tax returns.

The continent of America returned to his view and he found himself on the campus of John Hopkins, where Dorothy Liggett and Bessie Condon, as ever inseparable, were conducting a P. T. class. Attending college, because of his love for knowledge, was Walter Mason. Taking campus views and carefully adjusting his camera was Gail Green, leading photographer of Baltimore. In the outskirts of the city the prophet visited in the charming homes of Garnett Scott Reynolds and Dorothy McMorris Hughes.

The scene shifted to the land of sunshine and he saw that California had claimed Ellen Palmer as a dancer and Nina Murphy as comedienne. Freida Harden was manager of a beauty salon, owned by Charlotte Pichon. On the main street of Hollywood was the offices of Soloman and Soloman. Lois and Virginia were designing beautiful gowns for the Hollywood elite. Catherine Clapp lived in Hollywood too, as Mrs. Ithul Meade, and one of her closest friends was the former actress, Mrs. Margaret Davidson Seymour.

Returing to the east the oracle stopped in Butte, Montana, where he recognized Leone Liggett teaching Home Economics in a girls' school. Continuing eastward he spent the night at the "Clancy" Dude Ranche managed by Jean Gossett.

When he arrived in New York he became interested in the researches of Catherine Freeman and Katheryn Schnorr into the causes of sleeping sickness. In an exclusive Park Avenue shop he watched Mary Rogers model the latest creations from Paris.

Stepping into the elevator he was carried to the roof, where in a luxurious penthouse, he found Mildred Edenburn employed as governess to two small children. While waiting for Mildred he idly glanced at the New York Times and was surprised to learn that Evelyn Tillotson had been appointed editor of a new weekly magazine, "The Saturday Digest."

Descending to the street he glanced at a sign which directed passers-by to the law offices of Mary Barco and Lowell Macy.

The prophet was awakened from his revery by the sound of departing footsteps and opened his eyes to an empty room. He realized that he had just witnessed the future of the Senior Class and he smiled happily at the prospects in store for them.

SENIOR WILL

We, the Senior Class of the Oakwood Township High School, Vermilion County, State of Illinois, being of unstable minds and questionable memory, do make, edit and declare the following last will and testament:

To our dear Faculty we do will and bequeath our gratitude and the fond memory of our many pranks.

To the Bus Drivers we do will and bequeath plenty of back-seat drivers.

To Bill we do will and bequeath four years accumulation of refuse in the desks of the Senior Rows.

To the Juniors we do will and bequeath the use of our pet adjective, "sophisticated."

To the Sophomores we do will and bequeath our places in detention.

To the Freshmen we do will and bequeath our knowledge which will be of little use to us after our graduation.

I, Lowell Macy, do will and bequeath my book "How to Vamp the Girls" to Max Myers.

I, Mary Barco, do will and bequeath my extraordinarily, extensive vocabulary to Ferol Jones.

I, Mildred White, do will and bequeath my ability to be seen and not heard to Junior Pentecost.

I, Marian Van Allen, do will and bequeath my graceful carriage to Shirley Morris.

I, Walter Mason, do will and bequeath my constant teasing and tormenting of the girls in this school to Glen Cunningham.

I, Aileen Van Zandt, do will and bequeath my everlasting giggles to Betty Huddleston.

I, Elmer Grimes, do will and bequeath my interest in Georgetown to Cloyd Jones.

I, Virginia Soloman, do will and bequeath my favorite song, "Josephine," to Bob Neff.

I, Ellen Palmer, do will and bequeath my adeptness for climbing "garden walls" to Martha Cork.

I, Bessie Condon, do will and bequeath my dignified behavior to Jack Toms.

I, Byron Cole, do will and bequeath my exclusive right to sit by Louise Crowder to Edward Durbin.

I, Wayne Montel, do will and bequeath my pamphlet, "How to Make Love," to Joe Dejonghe.

I, Freda Mae White, do will and bequeath my literary skill to Marjorie Wilson.

I, Evelyn Tillotson, do will and bequeath my quiet disposition to Vivian Stine.

I, Dale Miller, do will and bequeath my right to sleep in study hall to Tom Joiner.

I, Charlotte Pichon, do will and bequeath my different modes of hairdress to Barbara Barco.

I, Mary Rogers, do will and bequeath the right to wear my favor--color, crimson, to Ruth Garrison.

I, Katherine Schnorr, do will and bequeath my most recent heartthrob to Sybil Anderson.

I, Reva Snyder, do will and bequeath my right to sell "Ads" to Mary Margaret Vinson.

I, Marion Wolfe, do will and bequeath my artistry to Albert Schramm.

I, Merle Womacks, do will and bequeath my girlish figure to Jack Van Zandt.

I, Wilma Cline, do will and bequeath the lead in the Junior Play to Norma Dalbey.

I, Garnett Scott, do will and bequeath my love for bright colored nail polish to Erma Howe.

I, Lois Soloman, do will and bequeath my interests in Ogden to Mary Jane Harden.

I, Dorothy McMorris, do will and bequeath my engagement ring to Virginia Smoot.

I, Catherine Freeman, do will and bequeath my hose with the red toes and heels to Florena Starr.

I, Howard Barco, do will and bequeath my bashfulness to Junior Sperry.

I, Bud Graham, do will and bequeath my long legs to Harry Gutteridge.

I, Catherine Clapp, do will and bequeath my English IV workbook to Viola Morman.

I, Leota Cook, do will and bequeath my position as an assistant to Miss Williams in American History Class to Thelma Woodard.

I, Margaret Ann Davidson, do will and bequeath my attraction at the Seymour ranch to Evelyn Davis.

I, Mildred Edenburn, do will and bequeath my Foods apron to Helen Fegett.

I, Mary Jane Engelman, do will and bequeath my managing ability to Wendell Wright.

I, Mary Foley, do will and bequeath my chief ambition to become a debator to Mildred Davidson.

I, Jean Gossett, do will and bequeath my love for shorthand to Evelyn Hadden.

I, Gail Green, do will and bequeath my manly characteristics to Bill Fagaly.

I, Blanche Hume, do will and bequeath my position as drummer in the orchestra to Leland Downing.

I, Frieda Harden, do will and bequeath one of my Dad's V8's to Edward McClure.

I, Leone Liggett, do will and bequeath the presidency of the Home Ec. Club to Anne Oakwood.

I, Dorothea Lomax, do will and bequeath one of my flaxen braids to Fern See.

I, Dorothy Liggett, do will and bequeath my shyness to Andy Young.

I, John Marlowe, do will and bequeath the title of "Rubinoff" to Sarah Hillery.

I, Nina Murphy, do will and bequeath my poetic virtues to Maxine McAlister.

I, Lucille Mendenhall, do will and bequeath my ability as a typist to Eloise Cunningham.

Lastly we nominate and appoint Miss Youmans and Mr. Sailor to be executors of this, our last will and testament.

In witness whereof, we have hereto subscribed our names this thirty-first day of May, in the year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Thirty Eight.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of the Senior Class of this school year.

Dorothea Lomax, our president wise,
Can pilot a plane in distant skies.

Dorothy McMorris is spoken for,
So there's no use to call at her front door.

Kathryn Schnorr with commercial aim,
Will sometime climb the ladder of fame.

Mary Jane Engelman, frank and sincere,
Has worked by the hour on the "Acorn" this year.

Virginia Soloman, a charming brunette,
Has eyes and hair as black as jet.

A senior we like is Freda Mae White,
Her voice is so soft it brings us delight.

In Blanchie Hume we have a soul,
Who will smile and laugh and reach her goal.

Walter Mason, whom we know as "Speed,"
For more ambition has no need.

Margaret Ann Davidson, a lass so blonde,
Is a lovely girl of whom we're fond.

Mildred White's so meek and mild,
One could not find a better child.

Marian Van Allen, so slender and slight,
Is Oakwood High's literary light.

Lois Soloman with locks of Titian hue,
In gayness is surpassed by few.

Charlotte Pichon is a dainty lass,
For her pleasing manner she heads her class.

Mary Foley, most beautiful of girls,
Has eyes of blue and hair that curls.

Merle Womacks, alert and steady,
For the difficult task is always ready.

Aileen Van Zandt, so graceful and tall,
At any party is queen of the ball.

Bessie Condon, a miss demure,
Blues of all kinds can surely cure.

Leone Liggett's so winsome and kind,
A more popular maid is hard to find.

Captain Barco, Howard's his name,
Gave us his best at every game.

Mary Barco, who keeps our money,
Counts it over till it isn't funny.

Reva Snyder, whom I now shall mention,
Is never, never in detention.

Johnnie Marlowe, our musical star,
With the feminine world is way above par

Ellen Palmer, our lassie petite,
Is happy hearted and light of feet.

George "Bud" Graham has melting dark eyes
But 'twas sportsmanship that won the prize.

Our curly haired boy, of Gail Green we speak
Is often called the senior Sheik.

Elmer Grimes, we call him Red,
In mischief's always at the head.

Dorothy Liggett with giggles gay,
Would rather spend her time at play.

Lucille Mendenhall with typing ambition,
Will never stop until its completion.

Garnett Scott has pretty black hair,
Rosy cheeks, and complexion fair.

Evelyn Tillotson with intelligence rare,
Edits our "News" with utmost care.

Byron Cole, a romantic lad,
When with Louise is never sad.

Mildred Edenburn's heart beats true,
Of friends she has a whole ship's crew.

Freida Harden in her Dad's V8,
Will no doubt travel through many a state.

Dale Miller's there when it comes to fun,
As a Negro minstrel he's second to none.

Leota Mae Cook with courage and mirth,
Attacks every task for all she's worth.

Goldie Clapp is not very tall,
But with dignified steps she treads the hall.

Marion Wolfe will become an artist,
Because at painting he works the hardest.

Jean Gossett comes early to school each day,
Works hard, and never takes time for play.

Mary Rogers, a girl with style,
Always greets you with a smile.

A diligent girl who likes to work,
Is Catherine Freeman,, who'll never shirk.

Lowell Macy has a world of poise;
He's the most reserved of all our boys.

Wayne Montel on the basketball floor,
Is very apt to raise the score.

Wilma Cline, so short and sweet,
When it comes to acting, is hard to beat.

Nina Murphy, I know you'll hope,
Has finally reached the end of her rope

SOPHOMORE CLASS

President.....Dale Shepherd
Vice-president.....Jack Toms
Secretary-Treasurer.....Jane Duquesnoy
Advisers.....Miss Snider, Mr. Baker

In the fall of 1936 our class consisted of eighty-three members. The class, now as sophomores, has an enrollment of seventy-six. The class gave an initiation party in honor of the freshmen on the evening of September seventeenth.

The class has been well represented in music and dramatics. Evelyn Pichon and Maxine McAlister entered the district music contest at Fairbury, while Virginia Smoot gave a humorous reading at the sub-county contest.

In athletics, the class was unusually active, four members, Bob Neff, Hubert Seymour, Cloyd Jones and Dale Shepherd, making the varsity squad. Second place in the inter-class tournaments was won by the sophomores.

FRESHMAN CLASS

In September of the year 1937, seventy-nine of us Freshmen entered "The Great Hospital for the Ignorant." If students were ever bewildered, we surely were during those first few weeks. The unfortunate beings who went to the wrong classrooms were always sure to be Freshmen.

At the beginning of the second week we held a class meeting. After much confusion, we finally settled down to business and elected the following officers for our class:

President.....Francis Baker
Vice-president.....Wilma Watson
Secretary and Treasurer.....Sam Swisher

Advisers—Mr. Dinsmore

First Semester.....Miss Nelsen
Second Semester.....Miss Bullock

We were very proud to find that the first party of the year was to be given in our honor September seventeenth. The fear of this initiation party caused as many sleepless nights, but a very enjoyable evening proved our fears groundless.

In return for the initiation party, we gave the Sophomores a party October first.

The Freshmen have taken active parts in music, athletics, and dramatics. In the county finals of the literary contest, Merle Liggett represented the school in original orations and Georgia Pulliam in extemporaneous speeches.

The Freshmen chose Annabelle Johnston and Francis Baker as their representatives in the popularity contest conducted by the Juniors in connection with the circus.

Dolcia, the girl from Italy. . . . . Reva Snyder
Tony, the Italian organ man. . . . . Kenneth Seymour
The Toreodor and Partner. . . . . Max Myers and Byron Cole
Heralds. . . . . Bessie Condon and Marian Van Allen
Mannequins, Bon Voyage Chorus, Nurses, Main Singing Chorus, Spanish Peasants, French Maids, Tap Dance and Soft Shoe Dancers were all composed of men and women travelers.

Music Director. . . . . Miss Michael
Dramatic Director. . . . . Miss Youmans
Accompanist. . . . . Mrs. Dinsmore

Neal Standish, scion of a Boston Black Bay family, is given a trip to Europe by his wealthy aunt. He is to study art and "see the world" with a view of becoming human. Larry O'Conell, assistant instructor in Fine Arts at Harvard, is asked to be Neal's companion. In the studio of Andre Maurois, world recognized artist, Neal meets Patricia Galloway, also of Boston. According to the stipulations of her grandfather's will Patricia must live three years in a foreign country unmarried, supporting herself, before she can come into her inheritance. She carries out these terms by designing fashion plates in Madame Pietri's modiste shop.

Although it has been but four weeks since they first met in Andre Maurois' studio, Neal and Patricia are very much in love. But Patricia still has five months before she can claim her inheritance. Despite his insistent wooing, Patricia makes Neal promise to go away on a trip for five months; they are not even to correspond. Through Larry's influence Neal "breaks loose," and has a wonderful time in England, Spain, Holland, Italy and France.

Five months after Larry and Neal return to Madame Pietri's shop. After hearing all the details of their trip, Patsy becomes jealous of the girls with whom Neal is supposed to have had affairs. She discovers from Larry, however, that he, as chief "recounter" of their odyssey, has substituted Neal's name for his own, believing that a little competition would help Neal's cause in regard to Patsy. In the end Patsy and Neal become engaged. Together with Mrs. Standish and Aunt Mary, who surprise them in Paris, and Larry's friends, they sail for America.

MUSIC

The Freshman Girls' Glee Club consisted of thirty-two members and the Freshman Boys' Glee Club of nineteen members.

The Advanced Girls' Glee Club with a membership of eighty-six, and the Advanced Boys' Glee Club of twenty-seven furnished the cast and chorus for the operetta.

The beginning instrument class was organized with eighteen members, its purpose being to prepare the people for the orchestra. The class was divided into the following sections: strings, woodwinds, alto horns, trumpets, and tuba.

The orchestra of thirty-five members has appeared at the class plays, music recital, music festival, and at the commencement exercise.

The Vermilion County Music Festival was held on December 9, 1937. Our Advanced Girls' and Boys' Glee Club and the orchestra were heard in the following numbers:

Adviser ..... Mr. Sailor

Our Future Farmers did outstanding work this year. They distinguished themselves at the 4-H show at Fairmount and the Vocational Agriculture show at St. Joseph, by winning over eight hundred dollars in prizes.

October twenty-seventh, the boys held the annual banquet in the gymnasium. Mr. J. E. Hill, state supervisor of Agricultural Education, was the principal speaker of the evening. Those receiving emblems for exceptional work in agriculture were Hubert Seymour, Robert Liggett, Jack Van Zandt, Fred Gutteridge, Rodney Payne, and Lowell Murphy.

The Sectional corn and poultry show was held November twelfth, in the old gymnasium. The boys did exceedingly well, as several won prizes.

Twenty-six boys attended the International Live Stock Show in Chicago November thirtieth and thirty-first.

Merle Liggett represented the F.F.A. at a speaking contest at Fisher, Illinois, March eleventh. His subject was "Illinois Agriculture Marches On." He won third place.

Recreational activities included basketball, soft ball, ping-pong, and swimming at the Y. M. C. A. in Danville.

Rodney Payne and John Rutan are eligible for their State Farmers Degree in F.F.A. at the State Convention in June.

November eighth the new members were initiated into the club. Each girl was required to earn points before joining. Following the candle light ceremony, a luncheon of chili and fruit cup was served. Each new member received a favor.

A delegation consisting of Blanchie Hume, Leone Liggett and Martha Cork, accompanied by Miss Doland and Miss Nelsen, attended the Home Economics Convention at Rockford, October twenty-first.

December twenty-second a buffet supper was given for the mothers, instead of the annual tea. The spirit of Christmas prevailed during the entire evening. The F.F.A. boys donned aprons and served.

During the week of March seventeenth Saint Patrick's Sisters were chosen by the girls, and gifts and letters were exchanged. The identity of their pals was revealed at a party held March twenty-first.

An Easter party was given April eighteenth for the members of the club, who were permitted to invite friends. Gay streamers of yellow and white, the club colors, and balloons of many hues transformed the gymnasium into a beautiful reception room. Refreshments consisting of punch, ice cream and wafers were served.

Mary Barco, Reva Snyder, Blanchie Hume, Mary Jane Engleman, Freida Harden, Catherine Clapp, Dorothea Lomax and Leone Liggett were eligible for Home Ec. pins given for winning points. These pins are made exclusively for Home Ec. Club members.

OAK NEWS

The school newspaper, "Oak News," was published every other week. It contained reports of the organizations, athletics and many other special activities. Social doings of the students were printed, as well as interesting and entertaining articles from other school papers, original poems and features by the English classes.

The policy of the newspaper has been to establish contacts between the school and the community, to promote school spirit, and to furnish a medium of self-expression.

A new type of organization for the paper was adopted this year. The students eagerly awaited each issue, efficiently supervised by Mr. Martin and edited by Evelyn Tillotson, with the assistance of Joe Dejonghe and the other members of the staff.

DRAMATICS CLUB

President.....Mary E. Jenkins
Vice-president.....Max Myers
Secretary.....Aileen Van Zandt
Treasurer.....Bessie Condon
Advisers.....Miss Youmans and Mrs. Blackburn

The Dramatics Club held its first meeting for the purpose of electing officers on September seventeenth. Those listed above were elected.

On September twenty-third the Dramatics Club presented its first program. A play was given by the sophomore English classes. They presented a cutting from Louise M. Alcott's story, "Little Women." Student directors were Garnett Wolfe, Wendell Wright, and Fern See. Marilyn Williams and Max Myers gave orations.

On November fourth, tryouts for the literary contests were held. Mrs. Baker was judge. Those awarded first place were Max Myers and Virginia Smoot.

A Thanksgiving program was presented on Wednesday, November twenty-fourth under the direction of Delores Giacone. A cutting from "Mother Bixby's Scarecrow" was given. A pageant was given concerning Thanksgiving. Junior Pentecost favored us with a few numbers on the piano.

The fourth program was presented on December twenty-fourth. The Freshman class gave a play, "All Around the World at Christmas." The Freshman Girls' Glee Club sang a number of Christmas songs. A play, "Memory Course," was given by Evelyn Hadden and Edward McDaniels. The Advanced Glee Club sang. At the same time a play directed by Melvina Edenburn, "Ashes to Roses," was presented. In conclusion the whole school joined in singing Christmas carols.

The Dramatics Society presented a program in honor of Washington's birthday. Two plays were given, one "Colonial Garden," by the Freshman girls, and the other, "Evacuation of Boston," by the Sophomore class.

In the Sub-District Contest held at Oakwood March twenty-second, Merle Liggett, Georgia Pulliam and Thelma Woodard placed first. Virginia Smoot and Max Myers placed second. In county finals held here Merle Liggett and Georgia Pulliam placed third and Thelma Woodard fourth.

The play, "Bed of Petunias," a one-act comedy, was entered in the District contest of Illinois Speech League at Charleston. The characters were as follows:

Cynthia.....Helen Cline
Jimmy.....Andrew Young
Pa Brown.....Wayne Montel
Mrs. Brown.....Audrey Johnson

In the May Fete, the final program of the year, the Dramatics Society was assisted by the Music Department and the girls of the P. E. classes. The date was May twenty-seventh. At the opening of the program, the high school orchestra rendered several musical selections. The freshman girls and the glee club girls presented several folk dances. The literary phase of the fete included a presentation of the contest play, "A Bed of Petunias."

The main event of the evening was the crowning of the May Queen, Marian Van Allen, who was chosen by the boys of the school. Her Prince Charming was George Graham, the selection of the girls.

SENIOR PLAY

The Seniors, under the able direction of Miss Youmans, presented the comedy, "Over the Garden Wall," on the evening of May sixth. The cast included the following Seniors:

Jack Danforth, Margie's husband.....George Graham
Margie Danforth, hostess at the house party.....Mary Foley
Bob Duffy, Margie's brother.....Wayne Montel

BASEBALL

The baseball schedule included the following games:

Sept. 14—Oakwood 1—Armstrong 3.

Oakwood was nosed out on the home diamond by a very close game. It was the first game for both teams. Numerous errors were committed by both teams.

Sept. 27—Oakwood 10—Perrysville, Indiana, 0.

The game was played at Oakwood. This was the first time in the history of the two schools that they had come together in any event. Oakwood really let go. The boys hit everything that was thrown their way. This was the first victory of the year. Young pitched a shutout.

Oct. 11—Armstrong 5—Oakwood 5.

Armstrong invaded Oakwood territory. Oakwood was out for revenge but could get only a tie score. It was a very interesting game, but was called because of darkness. This was the last game of the season.

The baseball squad included:

Catchers.....Graham, Thompson
Pitchers.....Young, Toms, assisted by Wright and Jones
First baseman.....Dobbles, assisted by Grimes and B. Liggett
Second baseman.....Jones, assisted by Izard
Shortstop.....B. Neff, assisted by M. Myers
Third baseman.....Seymour, C. Neff
Left fielder.....Barco, Wright
Center fielder.....Shepherd, McClure
Right fielder.....Smith, Payne

The lettermen were: Shepherd, B. Neff, Dobbles, Smith, Graham, Seymour, Barco, Young and Jones.

The Seniors who played their last games for their alma mater were:
Graham, Barco, and Grimes.

BASKETBALL

When Mr. Ross issued the call for the basketball squad, seventy boys responded. The varsity squad was picked from this group.

The first game of the season was a practice game with Hume. Oakwood won by the score of 31 to 37.

Oakwood won the opening game of the regular schedule by defeating Homer, 21 to 19, but lost the next three games. During the Christmas season, Oakwood came back by winning from Potomac, 29 to 16.

On December 30 and 31, Oakwood was host for the second season, at an invitational tournament in which Homer, Ogden, and St. Joseph were guests. Homer and Ogden played the first game, with Ogden winning, 28-20. The second game was played by Oakwood with St. Joseph, the latter winning a hard fought and thrilling game, 28-25. On December 31, Homer played Oakwood for third place, and came out victorious. Ogden played St. Joseph for first place, with Ogden winning the trophy, 32-22.

On January 7, Oakwood invaded Fairmount and emerged victorious with a score of 28 to 22. The following night Oakwood played Armstrong at Armstrong. This was one of the most thrilling and exciting games of the season. The Armstrong team led during the first three quarters, but Oakwood rallied during the last four minutes of play and won 30-29. On January 14, Indianola defeated Oakwood, 37-26. The following night, Ridgefarm played Oakwood here and won by using a very fast break. The score was 26 to 12. January 28 and 29 were the dates of the county finals played here. An unusually large crowd of fans attended both sessions. The county champion, Sidell, had an excellent team.

On February 4, Catlin opened fire against us and continued to shoot until the end of the game, netting a score of 44 to 12. The February 19 game was the last home game for four Seniors, Barco, Grimes, Graham, and Montel. Our opponent was Georgetown. Barco and Graham fouled out in the third and fourth quarters. Grimes was injured in the last quarter. The Georgetown team won the game by a score of 49 to 29. This was the last game of the season.

The members of the squad winning letters were Barco, Graham, Grimes, Jones, Montel, Seymour, Shepherd and Young. The squad consisted of the following men: F. Baker, W. Wright, C. Neff, E. Laflen, H. Smith, R. Liggett, E. McClure, G. Cunningham, W. Doney, R. Eyestone, C. Condon, W. Montel, C. Jones, D. Shepherd, A. Young, E. Grimes, G. Graham, H. Barco, H. Seymour, R. Neff, C. Smith.

CAPT. HOWARD BARCO—Guard — "Barco", one of the outstanding guards in the county, was also high point man. Being a senior, he will be missed next year.

GEORGE GRAHAM—Center — "Bud" played a good offensive and defensive game, but could not hit the basket consistently. He did not make the squad until his Junior year, therefore he is graduating before he reaches his peak. However he won the cup for good sportsmanship this year.

ELMER GRIMES—Guard — "Red" developed into a good defensive man in his last year. His outstanding value to the squad was his ability to sink long shots.

WAYNE MONTEL—Forward — "Monty" played a good game as forward his Junior and Senior years and would have developed into a great player had he not been handicapped by a bad ankle. Wayne won the free throw trophy, a fitting tribute to a departing Senior.

ANDREW YOUNG—Forward — "Andy" has shown excellent ability, making the squad his Sophomore year. If he plays as well next year as he did this season he should be one of the outstanding forwards in the county.

HUBERT SEYMOUR—Forward — "Hube" gave a good account of himself this season and should develop into a good ball player his Junior and Senior years. This was his first season on the varsity squad.

DALE SHEPHERD—Forward — "Shep" played a good game his Freshman year and would have had a good season this year had he not been in ill health. He has two years of competition left and shows all indications of making a good ball handler.

CLOYD JONES—Guard — "Doggie" was too small a chap to play basketball his Freshman year but grew so much that he gained a regular guard position. He is a Sophomore and should make an excellent showing the next two years. This is his first year of varsity competition.

CHARLES SMITH—Forward — "Chuck" did not see much service but when he played he gave a good showing. He has one year of competition left. He was, however, one of the best shots on the squad.

ROBERT NEFF—Guard — "Bob" was prevented from becoming a regular because of too keen competition for guard position. His chances for the next two years are very promising.

TRACK 1937

The first track meet of 1937 was held in St. Joseph. The teams participating in the meet were: St. Joe, Homer, Philo, Ogden and Oakwood.

St. Joe won first place with forty points, Oakwood second with thirty-six points, and Homer third with twenty-two points. Barco won three firsts, Young one first and one second.

The second meet was a triangular meet with Fairmount and Allerton, at Fairmount. Allerton and Oakwood tied for first, with thirty-six points each. Barco won three firsts, Young one first. Young set a record in the high jump, five feet, eight inches.

Class B meet was held in Catlin. Barco won first in the 100 yard dash and broad jump. Young won second in high jump and pole vault. Allerton won first with 27 points. Catlin won second with 26 points. Oakwood won third with 25½ points.

Oakwood won fourth place in Class A.

District meet was held in Rantoul. Barco won second in the broad jump and fourth in the 100 yard dash. Howard Barco's winning second place in the broad jump made him eligible to enter the state track meet at Champaign. He has the honor of being the first representative Oakwood has ever had in a state meet. Howard Barco, capt., Ed. McClure, and Andrew Young won letters. Andrew Young was elected captain for 1938.

MANUAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT

The Shop in which the manual arts class is conducted was remodeled this year. It was made lighter and was more conveniently arranged. New and modern equipment was installed which furthered the progress the boys are making in manual training.

This class has done excellent work throughout the year and has completed many useful and practical projects.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

This association was organized to promote enthusiasm and interest in school sports. Membership was limited to those who actively participated in athletics and to those who helped to support the program by the purchase and sale of a basketball season ticket. There were approximately one hundred students in this organization.

The association purchased a sportsmanship trophy to be given to the best sportsman, who was to be chosen by a committee of prominent citizens and a group of students elected by the four classes.

"O" CLUB

President ..... Howard Barco
Vice-president ..... George Graham
Secretary-Treasurer ..... Andrew Young
Adviser ..... Mr. Ross

The "O" Club, founded last year, was quite active this year. The club was organized by the boys who won letters.

Monthly parties were given, the members of the club taking turns at playing host.

One of the biggest events of the year was the banquet given March twenty-eighth. At this time letters were awarded to the members of the Varsity squad and the sportsmanship trophy was given to George Graham. This trophy was purchased by the Athletic Society and awarded on the basis of scholarship, sportsmanship, ability, and co-operation.

Howard Barco, toastmaster, introduced the speaker of the evening, Coach H. E. Johnson of Millikin University.

Captains were elected for the basketball and baseball teams for the coming season of 1938-39, the honors going to Andrew Young, basketball captain, and Cloyd Jones, baseball captain.

FACULTY GLEANINGS

GEORGE B. WEISIGER

1918-1923

In 1923, after serving as principal of Oakwood Township High School for six years, Mr. Weisiger spent one year in graduate study at the Yale Law School, receiving the degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence. The following year he joined the faculty of the University of Illinois as assistant professor of law. Since 1928, he has been a professor of law in that institution.

VELMA BAIN IFTNER

1924-1926

After leaving Oakwood, Mr. and Mrs. Iftner lived at Sullivan, Illinois, where Mr. Iftner taught for three years. Their only child, a son, George, was born there eleven years ago last October.

In March, 1928, they moved to Effingham, where Mr. Iftner was farm adviser. They remained in that place until June, 1933, when Mr. Iftner accepted a similar position in Pekin, where they reside at present.

Mrs. Iftner is active in the American Legion Auxiliary, being at present chairman of the Community Service Committee.

WILLIAM E. ROTH

1917-1918

In July, 1917, after teaching one year at Oakwood High, Mr. Roth entered the United States Ambulance Service and left the United States for France in January, 1918. He was an ambulance driver attached to the Twelfth French Division. He won Army Corps citation, which entitled him to wear the Croix de Guerre (Cross of War), a French honorary medal. He married a French war nurse, Mlle. Louise Trinquier. They have one daughter, Jeannine, who is now 18 years of age and is attending the University of Wisconsin.

After the war, he spent four years in high school teaching in Wisconsin—two at Phillips and two at West Allis. He then became in succession an instructor, an assistant professor, and an associate professor of mathematics at the University of Wisconsin Extension Center at Milwaukee. He received his doctor's degree in mathematics at the University of Wisconsin in 1928.

LUCILLE REINBACH WELCH

1918-1920

Miss Reinbach in 1921 took a position in the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington, D. C. At present she is connected with the Department of Agriculture, Division of Cereal Crop and Diseases, and works under Dr. H. O. Harlan, an authority on barley breeding. She was junior author with him of the bulletin "Yields of Barley in the United States and Canada, 1927-1931."

She has retained her interest in music and is a member of a very popular dance orchestra in Washington. She and her husband, a merchant, have traveled extensively in the United States and foreign lands.
